Associated Press Telegrams
(HAVAS' AGENCY)

London, 3rd.

Telegrams from Berlin say that, at a banquet given by the French Ambassador to the Emperor, His Majesty, amongst other kind things addressed to the Ambassador, that his most ardent wish was for the preservation of peace in Europe, and especially between France and Germany.

These spontaneous declarations of the Emperor William are of special interest at the present moment, when the proposed increase in the German army has shaken public confidence.

THE TAY BRIDGE DISASTER.

When the news of this complete catastrophe reached us we offered some few remarks which subsequently we found were reciprocated by many of our colleagues in England; and this reciprocity of view on a subject so overwhelming reminded us of the sameness of the human mind, and the average identity of thought on a given subject. Strange, however, that with all the lights that Europe lends to public writers, so gigantic a disaster brought forward no original thought or anything off the common, to give a new view to so distressing a subject. Stranger still, that one of the most peculiar incidents connected with it should have so entirely escaped attention that, but for the whispered stories of some Dundee game-keepers, the corpse of Anne Cruickshank, washed ashore at Dundee the morning after the accident, would have been still believed a record of the lost train.

The following from a Glasgow paper received by the mail may interest the few who still remember the Tay Bridge disaster; it is an episode deserving of note, shewing how, in the consideration of great catastrophes we often jump details that call for the very fullest explanation:

"There seems to be a good deal of excitement in Dundee over a report to the effect that Ann Cruickshank, who was supposed to have been in the train which fell into the Tay, and whose body was the first to be discovered, was not in the train at all, and had, in fact, been murdered. The theory goes that she left the train at Newport and proceeded to the ferry pier, intending to cross the Firth in the ferry, and that on the road she was waylaid and murdered. If we assume it to be true, we must presuppose that the unfortunate woman had misgivings about the bridge, and preferred to cross the Firth, even on such a night, by water, instead of in the comfortable and apparently-safe railway carriage. Such a presumption is simply preposterous; It is, perhaps unfortunate that this theory has been met by attempts to explain away the only fact on which it rests—namely, that some gamekeepers heard cries as of a female in distress proceeding from the direction in which the body of Ann Cruickshank was found next morning. It is conjectured, we are told, that the poor woman may have floated on a piece of the wreckage of the bridge, and that her screams were heard by the keepers."

The divers are of opinion that none of the passengers escaped from the framework of the bridge, and many people in Dundee believe that Ann Cruickshank was murdered and thrown into the Tay on the night in question. Perhaps, like the case of John Sadlier, the matter will never be cleared up.

BANQUET TO MR. GASTRELL.

On Wednesday evening Mr. J. P. Harris Gastrell, H. B. M. Charge d' Affaires, was entertained at a dinner, given by a few of his more immediate friends, on the occasion of his departure for Rio Janeyro. The grand banquet hall of the Confiteria del Gas was gorgeously decorated and lighted up, and precisely at 6.30 p.m. the guests met. Due to previous engagements, the Rev. Dr. Smith and many others were unavoidably absent. The following were present:—

Messrs. Hart, Drysdale, Rev. J. Smith, Simpson, Congreve, Lace, Captain Clanchy, Leslie, Todd, Kinch, Clarke, Duggan, Forrester, Norton, Wilson, Rossignol, Bell, Dr. Coulbourne, Lumb, Casey, Tebbut, Santa Maria, Bankier, Dr. Carlyon, Bridgett, Ford, Mulhall, and Mr. Gastrell, the guest of the evening, with his two sons, and Mr. Egerton, our new Chargé.

Mr. H. N. Hart, who filled the Chair, had the guest of the evening on his right; Captain Clanchy on his left, with Mr. Egerton 'vis a vis.' The dinner was equal to the high reputation of the establishment where it was given; and when the champagne began to flow Mr. Hart rose, and in a few graceful remarks proposed the health of Her Majesty the Queen, which was drunk standing and with applause.

The chairman rose and said—

The next toast I have to propose is the health of our distinguished guest Mr. Harris Gastrell. By his urbanity, his sympathy with us in our amusements, and his genial hospitality, he has acquired our friendship and esteem. In charge of the Legation during the greater part of his residence among us, we have to congratulate him, as well as ourselves, on his having always maintained the best relations with the Argentine Government. The friendship between the two countries is of long standing, I may almost say coeval with the birth of this nation, which bids fair to emulate in the South the greatness and prosperity of its prototype, the Anglo-Saxon Republic of the Northern Continent. Some clouds may now obscure the political horizon, but let us hope the breath of patriotism may soon clear them away, and that the Constitution may stand the test of the electoral struggle that now causes so much excitement. We shall regret to part with Mr. Gastrell, but our regret will be tempered by the satisfaction that he is called to fill a higher post in the service of his Sovereign. We trust we may soon hear of Mr. Gastrell's further advancement, and that while still comparatively young in years, he may reach the highest pinnacle of his honorable career. (Great applause).

Mr Gastrell replied, thanking the Chairman and the company for their kind expressions, and regretting that Mr Hart had not adopted the diplomatic rule of sending him a copy of his beautiful speech, so as to allow him opportunity to reply more fully. He spoke to the uniform kindness and attention he had always received, not only from the members of the Government with whom he was thrown in contact, but also from his countrymen in B. Ayres, and much regretted that, of a country so prosperous and a British community so thriving, so little was recorded in any geography extant. He was proud to say that no part of his country lacked representation here. Ireland is well and worthily represented, and the subscription raised for the distress in the West showed how thoroughly alive his countrymen from all parts are to the urgency of the appeal. Scotland in no part of the world is better represented than in Buenos Ayres, whilst England, his native soil, shows at this table sons that are a credit to her. His sojourn in the Plate, whilst endeared to him by the recollection of former years, was rendered doubly agreeable by the evidence which it afforded him of the great and steady progress of the country, to the continuance of which he now drank. (Immense applause.)

Mr Forrester rose to reply for the Argentine Republic. He said, although not by birth, he was in sentiment an Argentine. He had passed 27 years in this fine country, he knew it when it had neither wheat nor wool, nor flax; he had travelled over many lands, seen what was to be seen elsewhere, and the best of it, yet, he unhesitatingly asserted, he knew no country to equal this. (Applause.) Look at its splendid camps, its prosperous farmers, its magnificent prairies. Let any one take a walk down Calle Florida and see all the lovely, beautiful girls that have sprung up since he came to the country; the like of it is not to be seen elsewhere. There is no country under the sun that possesses more vitality, and he would add more advantages, and he thanked Mr Gastrell and friends present for their kind sentiments towards his adopted land. (Great applause.)

Mr C. Lumb next rose, and in short and brilliant terms proposed the British army and navy.

Captain Clanchy, Commander of the Elk, ably responded.

Chairman rose, and said, we are honoured by the presence of Mr Egerton, and are thus enabled to welcome the coming while we speed the parting guest. Gentlemen, let us drink health and welcome to Mr Egerton, and may he have a pleasant sojourn in the Argentine Republic.

Mr Egerton responded.

Mr Mulhall proposed British commerce, associating with it Mr Thos. Drysdale.

Mr Drysdale responded, regretted that he should be so soon leaving for England, but he should always remember his kind friends in the Plate.

Mr. Forrester next rose and proposed the health of the Rev. James Smith, a clergyman whose high merits were recognized not only by his own but by other congregations. (Great cheers.)

The Rev. Mr. Smith gracefully replied: he spoke of his long residence in Buenos Ayres, and his great pleasure at assisting on occasions like the present. He complimented Mr. Gastrell on the able manner in which he discharged the high duties of his post, and the widespread regret at his leaving. (Applause.)

Mr. Forrester proposed the Press, the Standard of Buenos Ayres, the paper that had done more than all others to advance the country's interests. (Cheers.)

Mr. Mulhall briefly replied, thanking Mr. Forrester and friends for their kind sentiments and promising always to do his best. He proposed British capital, connecting with it the name of Mr Todd, the talented manager of the River Plate Bank. (Cheers.)

Mr. Todd replied, remarking that if the country really needed anything it was capital; and he hoped to see plenty of capital coming into it. The bright eyes and beaming faces of the young ladies one sees in Calle Florida since Mr Forrester came to the country certainly merited a toast, which with much pleasure he gave, asking Mr Congreve to respond.

Mr Congreve briefly but elegantly replied.

The Rev. Mr. Smith next proposed the health of the Dinner Committee, naming Mr. Kinch and Mr. Casey (great cheers).

Mr Kinch responded and admitted his satisfaction at being one of many who organized this brilliant dinner party, and regretted that many, owing to absence from town and previous engagements, were unable to attend. As the health of Church and State had been drunk, he proposed the health of Canon Dillon, whose absence he regretted (cheers).

A call being made for Mr. Casey, that gentleman rose and thanked the company for their kind expressions towards his country; and, although Argentine by birth, he was proud of the English blood in his veins which gave him English ideas, views, and rules of business (cheers).

Mr, Norton proposed the estancieros; and, as Mr. Shennan is not here, he called on Mr. Wilson to respond.

Mr. Wilson replied, and in a lengthy and eloquent speech dwelt on Mr. Gastrell's great services, which he as a bondholder thoroughly appreciated (cheers).

Mr. Gastrell rose and thanked the company for their kind expressions of satisfaction, and hoped that wherever he might be accredited his services would meet with the same high appreciation (applause).

The chairman next proposed the health of Mr. Gastrell's two sons, who were present at the board, and expresssed a hope that they would follow in the footsteps of their worthy sire.

Mr. W H Gastrell responded.

The Rev. Mr. Smith, in very complimentary terms, proposed the health of the chairman, which was received with the greatest applause.

Mr. Hart responded, stating that he was pleased to know that he had filled the chair to their satisfaction.

Mr. Forrester said that in connection with Mr. Norton's toast to estancieros, he would remind the company that there was present the man who of all others best represented the sheepfarming industries of the Plate—Mr. Michael Duggan (great cheers). He proposed Mr. Duggan's health.

Mr. Thomas Drysdale rose to add to Mr. Forrester's remarks his own high appreciation of Mr. Duggan, whom he had known from the very outset of his career, and whose high reputation for strict honor and straightforwardness he willingly bore testimony to, after long years of the most constant business transactions. (Applause)

The Rev. Mr. Smith proposed the health of Mr. Bridgett, H.B.M. Vice-Consul, and touched on his valued services to the British Hospital.

Mr. Bridgett replied, and the company then broke up, after an evening one of the most agreeable, and a dinner party the pleasantest we ever assisted at. Mr. Gastrell, we understand, sails on Monday.

A Dull Headache, Costiveness Low Spirits, and No Appetite, are some of the indications of a Bilious Attack, arising from a Torpid Liver. Dr. Jayne's Sanative Pills will soon restore the Liver to action, drive all symptoms of biliousness from the system, and assist in bringing about a regular action of the bowels.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO

(Our own Correspondent.)

March 1st, 1880.

The new Government House, not yet finished, is a handsome building situated on one side of the magnificent square Independencia, and though not a very extensive building, is handsome and becoming. It is understood to be only provisional, and to answer in the meantime that the Government Palace is to be built on the site of the actual British cemetery, for which purpose, it is understood, some negotiations are being made to buy the grounds from the British Government. It will take time before such a building is made, especially under the actual difficulties of the public treasury, owing to the crisis. Talking of buildings puts me in mind of the truly splendid new cemetery in town, as well as the new one at the Buceo—but more especially the first. It looks more like a 'Jardin des Plantes' than what it really is. It is in perfect keeping; nice clean gravel walks and some real gems of art in the way of sculpture can be seen here and there among the tombs of marble, besides the pretty, round church, situated in the centre of the first section among handsome but rather gloomy cypress trees and abundant vegetation of other kinds among which many rose bushes and other flowers. The 'Rotonda' church alluded to contains a fresco painting by an eminent Italian artist Valenzani, representing the Asension of Jesus, and a large size marble group on the altar made by an Italian artist by the name of Livi representing the Virgin Mary sitting with Jesus on her lap, when just descended from the cross. The church ornaments are costly, the 'terno' for dressing the three priests on solemn occasions having cost one thousand dollars gold, and are made of the richest velvet and embroidered in gold. The marble group alone cost several thousand dollars and is acknowledged to be a grand specimen of sculpture of large size, cut out of a solid piece of white Carrara marble got out expressly, weighing no less than three tons. The whole of the buildings, included the actual new frontage, have cost at the very least two hundred thousand dollars, and the money has all come out of the proceeds of the cemetery, under the management of very respectable citizens of the Junta, specially in time when it was under the management of the President, the Hon. Luis Lerena, and other respectable citizens, among who Pedro Anselmo Gomez, Luis de la Torre, Joaquin Vargas, all deceased and B. Blanco, Luis Baena, and others afterwards, John E. Horne being among the first. They first got the management from the government in 1859 or 1860 and planned the rebuilding of the old walls and raising of the rest of the buildings, excepting the second and third sections or yards, and the actual frontage, which is new. It is now reported that this cemetery will be converted into a Pantheon where none but the ashes or the bones of dead will be allowed to be deposited; the Buceo cemetery being the place to receive the bodies in future, the central position of the city cemetery being engulfed by the town and considered dangerous to allow interment in it, especially if any pest should unfortunately attack the city. The British cemetery is in the same case.

I have made a long yarn of it, but I hope it will not be too tedious for your readers who have not visited our city.

We had a grand bull fight yesterday for the benefit of the Murcia distress fund, and about 2,000 persons only were present; a few poor beasts were literally butchered: the Estudiantina masquarade game was played and some other amusements were attempted. Some ladies were present owing to the object of the fund, and got pretty well scared by the exhibition of the first two bulls, which were buchered piecemeal.

Mrs Turner and family arrived yesterday from England. They had very bad weather in the Bay of Biscay and lost one man overboard. Otherwise all safe.

WANDERINGS IN EUROPE.

(By a Young Argentine.)

(Concluded).

It is bad enough to see men round the gambling table, but when one sees the passionate faces and feverish excitement of the fair sex as the roulette marble whirls, it is really repugnant. Suicide is the last act of the drama. It has been calculated that 10 p$. of the gamblers commit suicide. The bankers have made fortunes, as they always have the chances.

I met a gentleman here who knew all my friends in Buenos Ayres. He tells me this place has greatly changed within the last few years. He knew Nice when there was scarcely a villa built, and no casino existed in Monte-Carlo. The 'va et vient' here is extraordinary. At 11½ p.m. the place is crowded with new arrivals, and the station is a motley crowd of departing people: some gay with their gaines at 'roulette,' others downcast with their 'guignon.'

I took the express train for Italy through the grand tunnel of Mount Cenis and had occasion to admire its length and Cimmerian darkness The train passed through at least 80 small tunnels and was delayed a long time. During the delay we organized a ball in the station and amused ourselves greatly. We arrived in Genoa, the birth-place of Christopher Columbus, where a gentleman stepped into the train with a friend. They were both engaged in a lively conversation about General Mitre. I immediately sat beside them, and after a few words discovered he was the brother of the first 'empresario' of the Opera House in Buenos Ayres; he had lived 28 years in the Argentine Republic.

At every step in Genoa you meet Italians talking of our Republic and its advantages. Genoa is eminently antique and commercial: the old rival of Venice may smile in its triumph over the City of the Doges. Genoa was always grand—grand in antiquity, grand in its commerce, and noble and refined in its arts. The feud of the Ghibelines and Guelfs has ceased, but the theatre of their exploits, of their victories and reverses is there—a cosmopolitan hive of industrious sons of many climes. This cosmopolitan character is greatly due to the many invasions of foreign armies.

Genoa is a museum. The traveller's gaze is attracted everywhere. The streets, the doors, the houses, the people: everything is unique and quaint.

In the San Lorenzo Church are kept the bones of St. John the Baptist. The relics are on a special altar; women may not approach this altar; if they do, they are excommunicated. This severe condition arises from the notorious fact that a fair woman asked from Hewdes the head of the Saint. The church is Gothic, and was burnt by Marechal Mazeres; but the damage done was insignificant. The harbour is worth seeing; amongst many monuments are the statues of Cavour, the monument to Colon &c. I saw the house where Mazzini was born; next door is a club, where only members and newspaper correspondents are allowed. I declared that I was correspondent of the Standard; they then let me in. I hope Mr. Mulhall will excuse my usurping the name of correspondent to his paper.

Amongst the most fashionable promenades is the Acqua Sola; Albergo dei Poveri, La Annunziata; the Begatoand the Bolsa are also worth seeing. Palace follows palace; the buildings are superb. In fact I investigated every nook in Genoa, and made the most of my short stay.

I now leave for Pisa, and intend enjoying Carnival in Rome, where the King at present resides. I will then visit Naples, and ascend the Vesuvius. Then my route is back to Rome, to Firenze, the cradle of art, Bologna and Venice. Milan, Turin and Modena shall not escape, and then I return to France by the Mount Cenis. Having thus far penetrated into the bowels of the land I take the train to Paris to witness the great review; I will see Versailles and Vincennes, and then rest.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The farewell banquet given on Wednesday at the Confiteria del Gas, to Mr. Harriss Gastrell, H.M Chargé d'Affaires, was a brilliant success, and must have much gratified the distinguished guest. We give full particulars in another column,

Yesterday was rather a dullish day: No fresh revolutions; no 'bolas' worthy of notice; no steamers from Europe, in fact there was a kind of 'pause for a reply' feeling in everything, except in the gold and wool markets, which are respectively going down and up under the influence of the intoxicating commercial advices from Europe. Mr. Balcarce's letter to the National Finance Minister shows a truly gratifying development of this country's trade with France, although it is rather late in the day to be talking about the year of grace 1878; but in the Plate statistics always come exactly a year late. It's the fashion, 'et voila tout.'

The British Hospital returns for February show 31 patients on the 1st, 17 received, 16 cured, one died and 32 in the house on March 1st.

There is to be another Tiro Nacional business to-night in the Plaza Victoria, where the volunteers will assemble after dark and march to Colonel Campos's house, to present their compliments to Col. Campos and the other officers who have retired from the army in consequence of recent political events.

Yesterday was 'Bouquet' day at the Flower Show. The weather was glorious, and the ladies mustered very strong, especially in the evening. The Show is the best ever attempted here.

Yesterday there was another fashionable wedding at the English Church—Mr. Thomas led to the Hymeneal altar Emilia, eldest daughter of Mr. Brown, of Campana. As a matter of course the church was crowded, and we desire for the young and happy couple every earthly blessing.

The 31st of this month will be the positively last day for sending in 'reclamos' about Patentes.

The masquerade ball people intend making a strong push with the Municipality to obtain permission for a little more 'can-can' before Lent is over.

The triple alliance 'bola' has now appeared in another quarter of the horizon, but, in opposition to the 'three Black Crows' theory, it decreases as it flies, and is now reduced to a dual alliance. The Mercurio of Santiago says that Mr Sanchez, the new Peruvian Minister to the Plate (and the richest diplomat this side of the Equator) has in his pocket full particulars of a pretended Secret Treaty between Brazil and Chile. When we put down the Mercurio after reading this news, we picked up a New York paper and read the following:—

"The most eminent liars of Reno collected a few days ago and the result is as below: Beck said he had seen it so cold in Ohio that it froze babies in the cradle. Tom Hymers said he had seen it in Thomas's Cañon freeze the mercury, and said you could not go within six feet of a spirit thermometer without running it up five or six degrees with the heat of the body, so he couldn't tell how cold it was. Ben Bacon said a cold snap came along when he lived at Green Bay and froze the waves standing right up on end and the air full of spray; and Finley Cook said it was so cold the winter he lived in Minnesota that when he threw a basin of water out of the door it turned into little balls of ice before it struck the ground."

We read yesterday with ineffable pleasure that the Provincial Minister has given orders to the Police to collect at once all the arms supplied to the Volunteer forces during recent events. To aid the 'bobbies' in their task, we may mention a piece of news given by another Argentine colleague, viz, that there are at present over 300 Remingtons, revolvers and carbines in the Government Pawn Office, all pledged within the last month. A sign of the times, verily.

The Porteño refers to an important commercial case just laid before the Courts by a leading merchant, one of the victims of a trick said to have been played on one of the Judges, by which the assets of a testamentaria were spirited away and several mercantile creditors left in the lurch: A counterfeit widow played the principal role in the comedy.

Our London contemporary, the Mark Lane Express, publishes the following anent 'swipes' in the River Plate:—

"Bass, Allsopp and, above all, Malt Tax Repealers to the rescue! The Rosario Correspondent of the Buenos Ayres Standard says:—"I note that the Lamport and Holt steamer Pliny, amongst a general cargo, brings 359 packages of machinery and 200 cases of German beer. It is really phenomenal how continental swipes is driving English beer out of the Argentine markets." But it is somewhat ominous to find the correspondent further remarking that "the taste of the people has quite changed within the last few years." Possibly lager beer is more suitable for the climate, swipes or no swipes; and English brewers to compete with Germany, must export a light and comparatively non-intoxicating ale."

Mr. Blot C.E. Architect in Chief of the Exhibition building, has engaged an extra draughtsman, to hurry on the plans. As yet there is no sign in the Plazas of the work commencing soon.

Wednesday was the second anniversary of the coronation of His Holiness Pope Leo XIII., as Father of Princes and Kings, Rector of the World, and Vicar of Christ on Earth.

The Tucuman Railway nett receipts continue to improve: They were over 50,000 pats in February, a short month.

The Paysandu Exhibition, it appears only lasted three days and was closed on the 24th ult. Too short a span by half. The exhibits which attracted most attention were: a punching machine (a contrivance for making holes, not punch), a Durham bull, a humped cow from Cabul (very like a Kerry cow,) a thoroughbred mare, two mules, and the Honble Lady Krupp, a sow whose 'embonpoint' was remarkable even for her tribe: there was also a magnificent bed of black laurel, made in Paysandu; and a local paper says 'it was a caution to see how all the Benedicts-elect in the town swarmed sheepishly round that bed.' Hem! Mr. Sterling, who had a splendid lot of cow hides on show, generously made them a present to the Exhibition Committee, to help to defray the expenses.

The last Sunday of this month will be the day for the Provincial elections. We should not care if it were to rain on the occasion.

Another fatal case of yellow-fever in Montevideo harbour—a sailor on board the Brazilian steamer Calderon.

Great news. The remains of a Prehistoric man have been discovered in the Sierra Nevada, California. A Swiss savant has made an affidavit before a magistrate that it is the right man in the right place.

A new Spiritualist Society was inaugurated on Monday evening with a complete fiasco. The medium, it appears, had not studied his part sufficiently, or had forgotten it, and the spectators retired thoroughly disgusted with the humbug, and with their most cherished convictions shattered.

The following is the only Conundrum we received yesterday. The 'plural of two' man has not turned up, and as we know neither 'his local habitation nor his name,' we cannot give the answer till he be kind enough to send it:—

"If a cannon ball would take 3⅛ seconds to travel 4 miles and 3⅜ secs. to travel the next 4, and 3⅝ secs. to travel the next 4, and if its rate of progress continue to diminish in the same ratio, how long would it take to go fifteen hundred millions of miles?

There was another 'descomunal' Police and Capitania scuffle a few days ago at S. Fernando. It is said that the fair sex had more to do with it than politics. Be this as it may, the result was extremely serious to all concerned: The Ayudante, poor man, got a bullet in his skull, and his left ear is missing; the potman (the row took place in a 'fonda') received a kick in the chest which has made him asthmatic for life, and a policeman also came into contact with the toe of a boot in such a forcible fashion that he has taken a sudden dislike to a sitting posture Really, the fair ones that cause such a very disastrous free fight ought to feel slightly ashamed of the consequences.

The Archbishop and suite left town yesterday on a mission to Moreno. The Revd. Kenelm Vaughan has published a highly complimentary letter which he received lately from the Archbishop, on his recent complete justification by the Public and the Press of the unfounded charges brought against him in reference to the collection he made for propagating the Scriptures.

Messrs Lacrosse are the Tramway Kings of Buenos Ayres. We hear they have now in contemplation a tram line to run from Canuelas through Monte, Las Flores and Rauch to Tandil.

The improved class of emigrants now arriving here is testified by an affair on board a tender conveying some new arrivals on shore. A pickpocket managed to get on board and steal 105 sovereigns from one of the female emigrants, but the police caught the fellow later in the day and recovered £90 of the money. A few years ago an Italian emigrant with £105 in gold would have been looked on as a curiosity in natural history.

The Municipality owes the Western Railway the very large sum of $4,305,000 m/c for work and labour done, and, from present appearances, is likely to owe it for some time to come.

The European papers contain rumours of two approaching marriages in very High Life indeed: The first is between the Imperial Prince of Austria and Princess Matilda, niece of the King of Saxony, and the second between the Duke of Genoa, who was in the Plate two years ago, and the Princess of Wurtemberg.

Municipalities, large and small, are eternally getting into hot water. All town is talking of the results of the 'tertulia de confianza' given by the Corporation of San Fernando on Saturday night last. Forty of the most distinguished guests present have been in bed ever since, and, to a man and a girl, they unanimously declare that they were poisoned at supper. The best confectioner in the town supplied the supper, and he has been called on to explain.

Gold dropped to-day to 30 m/c and then jumped back to 30.10, closing at 30.05. The reaction was caused by one well known broker buying over 200,000 and a few more following suit; but spite of all the time purchases gold for cash comes very fast on 'Change. A well known exporter sold yesterday for Saturday 100,000 pats. and to-day two other exporters sold equally large amounts; all this gold is 'efectivo' being wool gold, and the sales in deposit are just as strong as ever. The wool men on 'Change say that there is very little left now in deposit, only about 80,000 ar. out of 350,000 ar. in deposit only a fortnight ago That the wool business has, no doubt, its effect on the gold market is apparent to all, but that it is solely answerable for the fall in the market is a great mistake; gold abounds more in this market this year than last, much is on the way out, more still is coming down the rivers, and at all the private banks there is plenty of gold to be had at 6 per cent, but even at 9 per cent paper money cannot for the very best firms be had.

Cedulas ruled firm at 84, and not much done. In other stocks no transactions.

The sale of 5,000 salted hides, Dn J Repetto, at 52 rls, is an important business, showing an advance in the rate. Hides of this province are very scarce. In Montevideo yesterday 8,000 dry hides were sold, of which 4,000 for the States at 7.4o, and 4,000 at 9.9o. Here dry hides are now bought to arrive, and in much request. Some 15,000 hides they say have been bought within last few days by an American house, reserved rates.

Exchange ruled somewhat firmer to-day. Something passed on London at 60d, and on Antwerp at 5,32. In Montevideo exchange is reported weaker, done yesterday at 52½ commercial and 51½ Bank.

Mr White, the Chief of the Engineers Department, will leave, we hear, in Tamar for England, to buy railway plant for Tucuman extension.

The new firm of Risso & Schiaffino in Montevideo is announced.

Mr J Lloyd, of Rosario, was welcomed on 'Change yesterday; also Mr John Hughes, of Rojas, camps in the North looking splendid.

Gold at after hours ruled harder on time, but weak as ever for cash. Two or three leading brokers bought pretty heavily, but the current is too strong.

The news about wool is most favorable. Never has there been a better season for the exporter. The following transaction will show the money made in wools. On last Tuesday week an order by cable was received from the States to buy 600 bales wool. The order was filled before Wednesday night and telegraphed, and on the day following a return telegram was received announcing sale of same at prices which leave a net profit of 20,000 gold dollars.

There was some enquiry on 'Change for Telegrafo Platino Brazileiro shares. Parties having any for sale can find a buyer at our office.

Mr. Diehl, German Consul at Montevideo, was welcomed on 'Change.

Mr. Cadmus, one of our leading exporters, and one of the most successful, leaves for Europe in the Pampa on the 8th; also Mr. A. Christophersen.

The difference between cash and end of month gold is 30 cents., which reveals the true state of the market.

National Bonds of the year 1876, although quoted last sale at 66, are hard to get, and a buyer offered to-day for a good round amount 75, and could not find a seller, one lot of 4,000 being only available, and that dependent on advices from the owner, who is on his estancia.

The Tamar will be all full on Saturday. She takes:—

7,000 salted hides,

15,000 dry do.

1,600 bales and 25 first-class passengers. We hear that for the Minho all the cabins engaged save three or four, and some cabins of Elbe already engaged.

Mr Julius Haase, who has arrived from Punta Arenas, was welcomed on 'Change just as the doors were about to close.

We heard much dissatisfaction expressed today amongst import circles at the length of time which is taken by the Custom House to discharge lighters of their cargoes. The goods of one steamer which arrived here on February 19th are not yet landed, owing to the want of appliances at the Custom House mole. It appears that there are on the mole three small steam cranes to hoist up the whole of our imports, and on days when the water is low only two of these can be brought into service, as there is a 'hole in the mole' beyond which one of them cannot pass. We feel sure that he matter has only to be brought under the notice of our esteemed Administrator of Customs to be immediately rectified. Some of the cargo in the lighters is fish for Lent.

100 boxes of galvanized iron sold at 21$, delivered.

The latest news from Europe, and news of much importance, will be found in our telegraph column.

and the representatives of the respective countries have brought the matter before the Government with every prospect of redress.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon there was another pow-wow about shutting the Bolsa, and about 100 consignees of produce signed a protest, but there are 700 to sign a contra protest, as people are growing prematurely grey in B. Aires from such late exchange hours. The merchants to a man say 'shut the Bolsa sharp at 4 o'clock,' and when the consignees get accustomed to the rule they will be the first to see its advantage.

The following shows the exact indebtedness of the Argentine Republic, as on the London Stock Exchange books, on January 1st, 1880 The figures are official and come to us from London and are important:—

	Amount.	Market price.
Argentine 6 o/o, 1866/68	1,541,100	88¼xd

Santa Fe 7 o/o, 1874	250,100	98xd

The London papers received by the mail give the following:—

"We understand that the £250,000 new capital of the Western and Brazilian Telegraph Company about to be issued in debentures will be raised at 6 o/o instead of 7 o/o, thus saving the Company £4,500 per annum. This is a step in the right direction, and there is very little doubt (should no unforeseen circumstance occur) that, as Sir Edward Watkins stated as the half-yearly meeting, the shareholders will receive some dividend on the ordinary shares in July next.

"The Central Argentine Railway Company announce the payment of an interim dividend of 10s per share, being at the rate of 2½ o/o per annum.

"The Stock Exchange Committee have allowed the Six per Cent. Debentures of the Brazilian Imperial Central Bahia Railway Company (Limited) to be marked in the official list.

"The half-yearly dividends on the Brazilian Five per Cent Loan of 1871 are announced for payment by Messrs N M Rothschild & Sons.

"The half-yearly dividend on the Consolidated Uruguay Six per Cent Loan of 1871, due February 1st, at the rate of 2½ o/o per annum, and the annual coupon on the new interest bonds, at the rate of 1½ o/o per annum, will be paid on and after February 2nd, by Messrs I. Thomson, T. Bonar & Co."

The report of Mr Balcarce, Argentine Minister at Paris, to H.E. the Minister of Finance, Dr. V. de la Plaza, attracted great interest on 'Change, and was so much spoken of that we translate it, as follows:—

"Paris, Jan. 19th, 1880.

"I have the honour to send Your Excellency returns of the trade of France during the year 1878 with all the States which formerly constituted Spanish America, based on the official returns of the Custom Houses of said States.

"Your Excellency will perceive that the joint general trade, import and export, of the eleven republics in question, in that year, reached 278,750,203 francs, and the special trade 229,990,130 fcs., whilst the Argentine Republic stands for 217,056,645 and 203,735,408 francs. Which means that this latter Republic has almost as large a trade with France as all the States of old Spanish America put together!!! In face of the grand totals, the difference of 25 millions in the special trade is quite insignificant; and, seeing the notable increase of our trade this year, it is reasonable to expect that we shall soon do a larger trade with France than all the Republics referred to combined.

"These figures are of high significance and will doubtless cause Your Excellency the keenest satisfaction; they prove the immense producing powers of our country, powers far greater than those of other nations which have a larger population; and they likewise attest the extraordinary development of our trade year by year, and the great strides it must still make, if we can preserve our present state of peace.

"The source from which I take these figures gives also the trade of Brazil with France in the same year. It was, general imports and exports 179,751,634 frcs. and special 125,865,491 fcs. which is about 38 millions less than ours in the first case, and 78 less in the second; so that we have a far larger trade with France than a nation with five times our population.

"Before concluding, I beg to call Your Excellency's attention to a fact which has struck me before now, viz. that there is a great difference in our export figures as given by the French Custom House and by our own; a difference far in excess of the outside value which merchants should put on imported goods to cover freight, insurance etc. This proves that the valuation of articles entering or leaving our Custom Houses is not as correct as might be wished. The following are the figures in reference to the Arg. Republic.

	Gen. Trade	Spec. Trade
Imports into France	139,987,391	136,490,241
Exports from do...	77,089,254	67,245,167
Total francs.....	217,056,645	203,735,408

Copy of Analysis by Professor Kyle.

National College, Buenos Ayres, November 29th 1879.

Messrs. M. Forrester & Co., Buenos Ayres.

Gentlemen—I haveat your request made a careful examination of he sample of JEYES'S SHEEP DIP you handed to me on the 18th inst. I find it to be a well made preparation of Phenols and other Tar products, combined with soap, retaining the liquid form and easily mixible with water, from which it does not afterwards separate.

The proportion of active ingredients amounts to rather over 80 per cent. it is free from Mineral Poisons and from Caustic Alkalies. In my opinion it is well worth the attention of Sheepfarmers, and will be found by them to be convenient, safe, and I do not doubt, very efficacious as a Sheep Dip. From the readiness with which the preparation can be mixed with cold water it ought to prove most acceptable as a domestic disinfectant, being more convenient than crude Carbolic Acid or the disinfectant powders so frequently employed.

I am, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

JOHN J. KYLE, Professor of Chemistry.

Extracts from Testimonials

From Mr. Alex. Stewart, Bailiff to H. D. Pochin, Esq. Roduent Hall. Wales—

"The Sheep Dip is the best that I have ever used. I have not seen a sing'e Maggot on any of the Sheep since we used it. The wool looks beautiful, and to all appearance improved in quality. I feel satisfied it will be an invaluable boon to our large Sheepfarmers in the Colonies, and it only wants to be appreciated."
